

Albany, NY – Last Sunday the big guys up front got to show their skills and have a competition all of their own. No footballs, skill players, or penalty flags – just some sweat, dirt, and a day of fun. Twenty-seven teams consisting of 135 athletes got together for the 6th Annual Lineman Challenge.

Troy High Team #1 won the “IRON LINE” award by finishing first in the Team Events making things interesting to the final event, Scotia#1 and Schenectady#2 tied for a close second only two points behind. Newcomers Taconic Hills, Hudson Falls and Moriah also had strong showings in the Team Competition.

Logan Steyer from Saugerties won the “Iron Lineman” award as the top lineman by edging out Shatiek Lewis from Troy HS, and Wally Edwards of Moriah.

The Lineman Challenge is a competition of speed, strength, and agility where lineman participate in different events to showcase those skills. For more information visit the website at, www.LinemanChallenge.com for results and photos.
